MORNING SERVICES.

The Resuscitation of Christ. Mr. Moody is so well satisfied with the results of last week's services that he announces another week with a similar programme. These are the days when he is resting, as he calls it—i.e., substituting eight or nine hours of small meetings and personal instruction for the regular afternoon and evening services as before arranged; and as this kind of rest seems to agree with him, he adds, for the present week, a sermon to Christians on Thursday night, and will add to next Sunday's work a watch-meeting at the Tabernacle, which will close a few minutes after the ushering in of 1877. Many Chicago Christians are glad to have Mr. Moody spend his leisure time in his rest, but his long hours here for his rest are due to a good more than most people's hard work; and his holidays he is daily leading sinners enough to Christ to amount, under ordinary circumstances, to a notable revival of religion in any individual church. Working or resting, this man has nothing else in the world to do but to bring souls to Christ; he breathes an atmosphere of Christian work; he is as free under the pressure as a bird in the air, because it presses him all over, up as well as down. He takes hold of a revival wave with his faith as a wild duck takes hold of a hurricane with its wings. Gusts and tempests that prostrate solid sinners, uproot strong prejudices, and fairly take the breath away from timid, slow-moving Christians, are just the condition of this man's life.

He is the soul of his church. Life.

At such times he fairly mounts upon wings like the eagles; and, by the way he keeps at his work after almost everybody else is tired, he is sure of a spiritual audience when he speaks.

He is the soul of his church.

FINANCIAL.

The Drawings of last week do not make a good showing for the business of Chicago at the time of the preceding two or three weeks. For the first two weeks of December the Chicago exchanges showed an increase of $100 per cent when compared with the corresponding period of last year. The figures were $50,000,000, which had an increase of 10 per cent to show, Chicago's exchange was better than that of any city. New York had a decrease of 5 to 10 per cent, Philadelphia of 5 per cent, and St. Louis of 2 per cent. For the first three weeks of December the figures were $70,000,000, $75,000,000, $75,000,000, and $75,000,000, respectively. The clearing last week did not show an increase, but the decrease was so slight less than 1 per cent—that it still leaves the business of the first three weeks of the month encouragingly in advance of those of December, 1875.

The market is active, and was received chiefly by the offerings of packers' paper. News paper was freely offered, as collections have improved, and the miscellaneous demand for loans was not more than moderate.

Days of discount were $800 per cent to regular customers, with special rates in special cases. On other business is quiet, and 1000 per cent

New York exchange was weak, and was quoted at $1000 per $100 discount between banks.

The orders for currency, mainly from the foreign districts, were large, and the average receipts of currency from foreign ports considerably increased.

The clearing of the Chicago banks for the week was as follows by Manager D. R. Hale, of the Chicago Clearing House:
